A Self Portrait Journey Volume 3 - by Richard Leggett

Facing 2014 "Selfies"

The word "Selfie" has changed the world in my opinion. In 2009, when the word didn't exist, I was inspired to do a self-portrait each day for a year from a photography article I read. Now, it seems new technology has made everyone a "Selfie" photographer so the self-portrait is not unique anymore. So with this 2014 project completed, I will search for a different photography project. In the meantime, enjoy this edition of self-portraits or "selfies."
Or as the photo on the right implies.....
"Take time to stop and smell the roses."
